CRYPTO BLOCKCHAIN INDUSTRIES (CBI, Euronext Growth Paris: FR0014007LW0, ALCBI) announces that it is an advisor to Cornucopias. This agreement is part of Alphaverse's strategy to bring its expertise and assist in the development of virtual world projects.

As compensation, CBI is entitled to 0.5% of the Cornucopias tokens (COPI) issued, i.e. 19.2 million Cornucopias tokens. CBI has also been allocated 1% of the share capital of Cornucopias Technology PTE. Ltd, the company developing the Cornucopias project. The Cornucopias Technology PTE. Ltd shares are in the process of being transferred and, pending completion of such transfer, these Cornucopias shares have been valued on the basis of 1 Euro in the financial statements of CBI as at September 30, 2022.

Cornucopias 'The Island' is a massive Play-To-Earn, Build-To-Earn, and Learn-To-Earn blockchain based game where players can be rewarded with and/or own land, properties and other NFT based assets with real world value all by playing games in a fun and safe metaverse. Creators and players will discover a new form of currency economics where they can create and trade their own NFT's in game or on 3rd party marketplaces, and no longer will their purchased game assets be trapped inside a single game again. Currently in limited Alpha-testing phase on mobile and PC devices 'The Island' will be available worldwide in 2024. The metaverse is built on the Unreal 5 games engine which is compatible with the PC, Mobile Phone, Games Consoles and Smart TV's. The project runs on the Cardano blockchain platform, a globally recognized blockchain transaction solution.

The two metaverses, CBI's AlphaVerse and Cornucopias' "The Island," share many common characteristics, most notably a strong commitment to the universality of their metaverses, openness to a variety of communities, and broad use of blockchain technologies.
