Market Environment

Europe

In Equity, European exchange operators Euronext, Deutsche Börse and the London Stock Exchange saw increases in trading volumes in the fourth quarter both when compared to the same period a year ago as well as when compared to the third quarter. Average volatility was relatively flat both year-on-year and quarter-on-quarter.

Within Fixed Income, market trading volumes were flat to slightly up in the quarter both when compared to the same period a year ago as well as when compared to the third quarter.

Americas

Equity trading volumes on both the Nasdaq and NYSE also increased both year-on-year and quarter-on-quarter. Average volatility was flat year-on-year but increased slightly quarter-on-quarter.

In Fixed Income, market trading volumes decreased quarter-on-quarter but increased year-over-year. Average volatility declined both year-on-year and quarter-on-quarter.

Asia

Equity trading volumes trends were mixed as the Hong Kong and Shanghai Stock Exchange saw increases year-on-year but declines quarter-on-quarter, while the Tokyo Stock Exchange saw increases both year-on-year and quarter-on-quarter. Average volatility in Hong Kong declined significantly year-on-year, given the significant market volatility that occurred in October of last year, and was relatively flat quarter-on-quarter. Average volatility in Tokyo increased both year-on-year and quarter-on-quarter.

Digital Assets

Within Digital Assets, trading volumes in Bitcoin, the barometer of the industry, increased slightly both compared to 3Q25 and 4Q24, whereas spot volumes across all tokens declined over both periods. Average volatility in Bitcoin declined year-on-year but increased quarter-on-quarter.

Outlook

Fixed operating expenses for the year 2026 are expected to be €220-230m, driven by continued technology investments, talent additions to support growth initiatives, and inflationary pressures. This excludes interest on the private credit facility, which will be part of Interest Expenses.

CEO StatementThomas Spitz, CEO

“Following a fourth quarter marked by stronger market activity and continued growth across the global ETP ecosystem, Flow Traders delivered a solid finish to the year. Trading conditions were more constructive than in the preceding quarter, with higher ETP value traded and increased activity across several asset classes. This supported a robust EBITDA margin of 41% for both the quarter and the full year, alongside FY25 Net Profit of €133.6m and EPS of €3.07. Despite lower market volatility compared to 4Q24, our diversified trading setup allowed us to capture opportunities globally and deliver consistent results.

In 2025, we advanced strategic initiatives to reinforce our global ETP leadership and drive the convergence of digital and traditional finance. We expanded our investments in intelligent system management for our trading infrastructure and are accelerating the deployment of AI supported analytics to drive trading efficiencies. We continue investing in research engineering and are deploying a dedicated Deep Learning initiative applied to trading strategies. This will also support building our quantitative capabilities in short- and mid-term trading.

To support this, we attracted thought leaders and experienced talent in the field of technology and AI and anticipate to continue strengthening our leadership in trading, quant and technology through 2026.

We also broadened our footprint in Asia and have just launched our operations to begin actively trading China markets which is an attractive growth segment aligned with our core ETP strength.

Momentum in the convergence between traditional finance and digital assets remains strong. 2025 was a turning point following the 2024 launches of ETPs related to cryptocurrencies. We are now seeing traditional market participants (Banks, Asset Managers, Funds) developing new offerings, opening new trading partnerships and opportunities for Flow Traders.

We are particularly excited about the developments of real-world asset tokenisation as it combines Flow Traders' expertise on the ETP and digital asset side. Tokenization is the new “ETP moment,” and we expect this to develop as a stand-alone asset class.

To enable this, we are uniting our Cash Equity and Tokenized Markets trading efforts and are accelerating our investment capabilities in this space. We are convinced that, combined with our wide network of institutional relationships built over 20 years in the ETP space, these initiatives will help us further strengthen our partnerships, and drive the growth we are anticipating in these markets.

Additionally, we are also happy to have signed a strategic partnership with Dinari to provide 24/7 trading of tokenized U.S. equities.

To share more details on our vision, ambitions and expansion plans, we will be hosting a Capital Markets Day before our next AGM.

Overall, across my interactions with colleagues and stakeholders during the quarter, I continue to be impressed by the talent, collaboration, and ambition across our global teams. The energy and alignment behind our growth agenda give me great confidence as we invest into 2026.”
