

Virtune announces a change of the underlying crypto asset for Virtune Polygon ETP from Polygon (MATIC) to Polygon Ecosystem Token (POL)

Stockholm, December 5, 2024 - Virtune announces that following Polygon's upgrade to enhance its native token's utility and support a growing network of blockchains, Polygon (MATIC) will be replaced by Polygon Ecosystem Token (POL) as the underlying crypto asset for Virtune Polygon ETP (ISIN code: SE0021630217, ticker name: VIRPOLY) today on the 5th of December 2024.

Notice of changed terms and conditions

Effective as of today 5th of December 2024, the underlying crypto asset for VIRPOLY will be converted from Polygon (MATIC) to Polygon Ecosystem Token (POL). Please note that the change of the underlying crypto asset of this ETP will not impact investors, other than the switch of the underlying asset to POL, which correlates with the value development of MATIC. No action is required from the investors. The ETP will continue to operate as usual and remain available for trading during standard exchange hours.
