Highlights

Second quarter 2025

Solid financial results

- Strong operational performance and production growth
- Higher US onshore gas production capturing higher prices
- Stable cost and capex in line with guidance
- Balance sheet remains robust through lower price environment

Strategic progress

- Delivered key milestones on Johan Castberg, Johan Sverdrup Phase 3 and Fram South/Troll
- Divestment of Peregrino in Brazil for USD 3.5 billion
- Financial close of Baltyk 2 & 3 offshore wind projects in Poland
- Empire Wind 1 project development back in execution.
 Impairments driven by regulatory changes for future offshore wind projects leading to a loss of future synergies on South Brooklyn Marine Terminal, and increased exposure to tariffs.

Delivering strong capital distribution

- Ordinary cash dividend of USD 37 cents per share, third tranche of share buy back of USD 1.265 billion
- Expected total capital distribution of USD 9 billion in 2025

2Q 2025

Equity production

Oil and gas

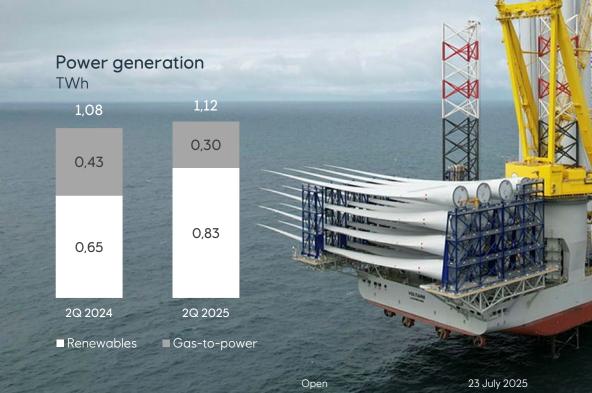

- >2% production growth
- On the NCS, Johan Castberg ramp up and Halten East started, and high regularity at Johan Sverdrup and several fields; production impacted by planned maintenance and turnarounds.
- Higher US onshore gas production at higher prices. International production impacted by Azerbaijan and Nigeria divestments.

Oil and gas production

Power

- 26% renewable production growth
- Increased offshore wind production from ramp up of Dogger Bank A in the UK

Highlights

- Lower liquids prices and higher gas prices both in the US and Europe. European gas storage currently at ~65%
- E&P Norway driven by strong operational performance
- E&P Int delivered higher production from Brazil and new wells in Argentina and Angola
- E&P US results driven by higher onshore production; impacted by a one-off related to an abandonment obligation
- MMP delivered solid gas trading; results impacted by Hammerfest LNG maintenance and weaker crude trading
- REN results reflect high project activity, lower costs and reduced early phase activity

You should not place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements. Our actual results could differ materially from those anticipated in the forward-looking statements for many reasons.

These forward-looking statements reflect current views about future events, are based on management's current expectations and assumptions and are, by their nature, subject to significant risks and uncertainties because they relate to events and depend on circumstances that will occur in the future. There are a number of factors that could cause actual results and developments to differ materially from those expressed or implied by these forward-looking statements, including levels of industry product supply, demand and pricing, in particular in light of significant oil price volatility; unfavourable macroeconomic conditions and inflationary pressures; exchange rate and interest rate fluctuations; levels and calculations of reserves and material differences from reserves estimates; regulatory stability and access to resources, including attractive low carbon opportunities; the effects of climate change and changes in stakeholder sentiment and regulatory requirements regarding climate change; changes in market demand and supply and policy support from agvernments for renewables; inability to meet strategic objectives; the development and use of new technology; social and/or political instability, including worsening trade relations; failure to prevent or manage digital and cyber disruptions to our information and operational technology systems and those of third parties on which we rely, operational problems, including cost inflation in capital and operational expenditures; unsuccessful drilling; availability of adequate infrastructure at commercially viable prices; the actions of field partners and other third-parties; reputational damage; the actions of competitors; the actions of the Norwegian state as majority shareholder and exercise of ownership by the Norwegian state; changes or uncertainty in or non-compliance with laws and governmental regulations; adverse changes in tax regimes; the political and economic policies of Norway and other oil-producing countries; regulations on hydraulic fracturing and lowcarbon value chains; liquidity, interest rate, equity and credit risks; risk of losses relating to trading and commercial supply activities; an inability to attract and retain personnel; ineffectiveness of crisis management systems; inadequate insurance coverage; health, safety and environmental risks; physical security risks to personnel, assets, infrastructure and operations from hostile or malicious acts: failure to meet our ethical and social standards; actual or perceived non-compliance with legal or regulatory requirements; and other factors discussed elsewhere in this presentation and in Equinor's Integrated Annual Report for the year ended December 31, 2024 (including section 5.2 - Risk factors thereof). Equinor's 2024 Integrated Annual Report is available at www.equinor.com.

Although we believe that the expectations reflected in the forward-looking statements are reasonable, we cannot assure you that our future results, level of activity, performance or achievements will meet these expectations. Moreover, neither we nor any other person assumes responsibility for the accuracy and completeness of the forward-looking statements. Any forward-looking statement speaks only as of the date on which such statement is made, and, except as required by applicable law, we undertake no obligation to update any of these statements after the date of thispresentation, either to make them conform to actual results or changes in our expectations.

We use certain terms in this document, such as "resource" and "resources", that the SEC's rules prohibit us from including in our filings with the SEC. U.S. investors are urged to closely consider the disclosures in our Annual Report on Form 20-F for the year ended December 31, 2024, SEC File No. 1-15200.
