Nexstim Receives NBS 6 System Order from Clinic in Florida, US

Press release, Helsinki, 22 April 2024 at 11 AM (EEST)

Nexstim Plc (NXTMH:HEX) ("Nexstim" or "Company") has received an order for an NBS 6 system from a new clinic customer located in Florida, United States.

Launched in 2023 in the United States and Europe, the NBS 6 is a new Nexstim product generation that brings the usability of the Nexstim system to a new level. The NBS 6 is currently FDA-approved for the treatment of major depressive disorder (MDD), as well as CE-marked for the treatment of MDD and chronic unilateral neuropathic pain. Nexstim's systems are based on the company's unique navigated transcranial magnetic stimulation (nTMS) technology.

Mikko Karvinen, CEO of Nexstim, comments: "Happy to welcome another private clinic to our therapy user community. Clinics treating patients with treatment resistant MDD do an amazing job at advancing well-being in their communities, and Nexstim is excited to be involved in transforming people's lives. Our new NBS 6 system helps customers to get started with treatments quickly and offers an exceptional user experience."
