HIGHLIGHTS

European equity markets came under significant selling pressure this month, with the Euro Stoxx 50® Total Return falling -5.9% impacted by the invasion of Ukraine by Russia which has shaken markets. Similar stress started to show in credit markets with the iTraxx Crossover® (S36) widening to 345bps from 286bps at the end of January and the market implied volatility measure VStoxx® jumping from 27.0% to 35.3%.

Against this backdrop BG Fund was up +67bps in February with positive returns from trading strategies, convertibles and volatility, with overall performance held back by specific special situations in credit and equities.

The Ukraine/Russia situation continues to generate a lot of uncertainty and market volatility. We are very closely monitoring risk. The Fund has zero direct exposure to Russian or Ukrainian equity, debt or currency. The fund continues to roll down and forward its optionality. In combination with the risk environment, we are also mindful of potential market overreaction on certain situations. The BG Fund has robust levels of excess margin and unencumbered cash, and we will look to deploy capital to specific positions within arbitrage and hard catalyst events when/if dislocations reach extreme levels.
