US Customer Places Upgrade Order for Two Nexstim NBS 6 Systems

Press release, Helsinki, 1 July 2024 at 11:30 AM (EEST)

Nexstim Plc (NXTMH:HEX) ("Nexstim" or "Company") announces that it has received an order and delivered two new NBS 6 systems to a private clinic customer in the United States. The customer is an experienced Nexstim system user that is now upgrading its existing systems at two clinic locations.

Nexstim launched NBS 6, a new generation nTMS system, in 2023. The NBS 6 is cleared by the FDA for the treatment of Major Depressive Disorder (MDD) in adult patients who have failed to achieve satisfactory improvement from prior antidepressant medication in the current episode.

Mikko Karvinen, CEO of Nexstim, comments: "Very happy to announce this order from one of our most active therapy users. Nexstim's NBS 6 system brings the usability of our state-of-the-art TMS technology to an even better level and allows the delivery of effective treatments to MDD patients. We are excited to see both new and experienced customers get well acquainted with the new system generation resulting from our focused research and development efforts."
