Equans announces acquisition of a majority stake in an Australian company CV Services PTY.

With this acquisition, Equans reaffirms its bolt-on growth strategy in high-potential geographies and strengthens its position in the Australian market. CV Services is a leading multi-disciplinary technical services provider delivering solutions across infrastructure, construction, asset services, media and signage.

Based in Queensland, Australia, CV Services serves private and public clients for over 20 years across the asset lifecycle, underpinned by long-term client relationships and exceptional teams. CV Services employs 880 people and generates annual revenue 2026 of 260mAUD[1].

Equans Australia CEO Richard Dujardin said: «CV Services is fully complimentary to Equans' existing business in Australia and growth trajectory. We are very pleased to welcome CV Services' CEO Andrew McMaster and his teams to Equans with whom we already share the same values and dedication to deliver excellence for all our clients» .

CV Services CEO Andrew McMaster "This marks an exciting new chapter in the CV story. Bringing Equans on board as a majority shareholder creates for our people new opportunities through access to global expertise, broader capabilities, and expanded career pathways. For our clients, it means greater resources and capability to support their needs now and into the future. "
