Air France-KLM Press release

Development of Transavia France

Within the framework of the referendum held by the Air France SNPL pilots' union, Air France SNPL's members have voted largely in favour of Transavia's development.

Transavia France will be able to grow in economically balanced conditions and without any restrictions on the number of aircraft for the Air France group.

The company will be able to accelerate its offensive in the highly competitive low-cost market, departing from Orly and regional French stations.
