Fish Farming Central Norway harvested 27,800 tonnes of salmon in the first quarter 2024, compared with 22,200 tonnes in the first quarter 2023.

The segment generated operating income of NOK 2,786 million in the quarter, compared with NOK 2,326 million in the corresponding quarter last year.

At the beginning of the quarter, the segment experienced extreme weather conditions affecting sites in the segment. A one-off cost related to the extreme weather events, affecting the result with NOK ~1.5 per kg, was booked in the quarter.

The EBIT per kg gutted weight was NOK 42.6 in the first quarter 2024, down from NOK 50.0 per kg in the same period last year.

The volume harvested in the quarter originated from fish that were transferred to sea in the autumn 2022 and spring 2023.

Despite still some challenges, the overall biological status on the fish in sea is good. In the second quarter 2024, the segment will continue to harvest from the spring 2023 generation and finish autumn 2022 generation.

The segment expects slightly lower cost level in the second quarter 2024 compared to the first quarter 2024. The harvest volume is expected to be lower compared to volume harvested in second quarter 2023.

The results in the period where negatively affected by environmental challenges related to string jellyfish. The jellyfish attack impacted the average harvest weight and share of superior volume, which impacted both cost and price achievement in the quarter. One-off costs related to the incidents was NOK 3 per kg.

Fish Farming Northern Norway achieved NOK 27.1 EBIT per kg gutted weight in first quarter 2024, compared to NOK 42.3 in the same period the year before.

In the period harvest volume came from the spring 2022 and autumn 2022 generation.

The biological situation is still challenging, but improved since Q1 2024.

Due to seasonal lower volumes there was reduced capacity utilization of the facilities. The segment continued to showcase its flexible operational set-up being able to handle volumes from challenges at the farming sites, even though peak VAP capacity was not large enough to ensure optimal allocation of salmon.

In total the segment harvested 48,800 tonnes of salmon in the first quarter 2024, compared with 45,900 tonnes in the first quarter 2023.

The fixed price contract shares in first quarter 2024 was 39 per cent, with negative contribution due to high spot prices. The segment reported continued good price achievement from spot sales.

The segment delivered an operational EBIT of NOK -37 million in the period, compared with NOK -81 million in the same period last year.

In the second quarter 2024, the contract rate is expected to be around 48 per cent. For the full year of 2024, the contract rate is expected to be around 30 per cent.

SalMar Aker Ocean

SalMar Aker Ocean is a partnership between SalMar (85 per cent ownership) and Aker (15 per cent) that specialise in offshore farming. The company has two semi-offshore units in operation, Ocean Farm 1 in Central Norway and Arctic Offshore Farming in Northern Norway.

NOK million	Q1 2024	Q1 2023	2023

The company harvested out remaining volume the Arctic Offshore Farming project in January. Due to impact from string jellyfish price achievement was affected negatively.

Ocean Farm 1 was harvested in March with good biological performance, but low capacity utilization affects the cost per kg.

Note that EBIT per kg is lower for the semi-offshore projects compared to traditional farming due to higher deprecation. EBITDA-farming per kg was 19.3 in the period.

The volume guidance for 2024 is kept unchanged at 7,000 tonnes. New smolt is expected to be transferred to both units in 2024 and be harvested in 2025.

Strong biological performance from the completed production cycles from both units give confidence for further potential.

Other matters

Strengthening cost focus in the value chain

Through a series of transactions, NTS, NRS and SalmoNor became part of SalMar from November 2022. The companies merged into SalMar's existing operational structure, and the new operating structure became operational as of 1 January 2023. The combination has allowed for significant cost savings where NOK 844 million in yearly recurring cost savings has been realized.

Going forward SalMar is strenghthening its cost focus with launch of an new strategy period. Salmon farming is all about the details and the goal of the strategy period is to optimize the cost base and biological performance in all regions, where focus is on the elements SalMar can impact.

Launch of Salmon Living Lab

In March 2024, SalMar launched Salmon Living Lab, an ambitious innovation and R&D initiative together with Cargill. With the initiative, the parties aim to motivate and mobilise a broad industry initiative to finding and developing more sustainable solutions for salmon farming, on the terms of the salmon. Salmon Living Lab will serve as an innovation centre dedicated to improving the biology across the entire salmon farming value chain. Initial investments in Salmon Living Lab are estimated at NOK 500 million.

The initiative has received significant interest from various companies in the value chain, NGOs and other stakeholder group eager to contribute. For more information, see www.salmonlivinglab.no

Expansion of smolt production capacity

The new smolt facility in Tjuin in Trøndelag, came into operation in 2023 and the the first batch of fish to sea was delivered in the second quarter 2024.

In 2023, SalMar completed the construction of its second closed net pen, Marine Donut, in Central Norway, Romsdalsfjorden. This is SalMar's second closed net pen in the region. First production started in second quarter 2024.

Expanding harvesting and processing capacity

The Vikenco project is on track and will expand harvesting capacity and VAP capacity at SalMar's facility Vikenco in Rindarøy outside Molde in Central Norway.

The expansion project at InnovaMar, InnovaMar 2.0 at Frøya, aimed at doubling capacity and generating significant local ripple effects, is currently postponed due to uncertainty regarding the resource rent tax and offshore farming regulations.

New offshore units on hold in Norway

In end September 2023, site approval for one open ocean unit was granted to SalMar Aker Ocean's Smart Fish Farm, approximately 50 nautical miles west of Frøya in Central Norway. Due to regulatory uncertainty SalMar Aker Ocean decided that further work on offshore aquaculture in Norway is currently on hold. The company will continue to fully focus on growth semi-offshore and utilize the capacity of its existing two semi-offshore units for the production of sustainable Norwegian salmon. It will also continue to explore opportunities outside of Norway.

Resource rent tax on aquaculture in Norway

On 31 May 2023, with a narrow majority, the Norwegian Parliament voted for implementing an additional resource tax on aquaculture in Norway, with a tax rate of 25 per cent. This is in addition to the regular corporate tax and means that the marginal tax rate on aquaculture will increase by over 100 per cent, from 22 per cent to 47 per cent. The new tax applied retroactively from January 1, 2023.

SalMar remains strongly opposed to this the resource rent tax and has consistently cautioned against it. The tax relies on the incorrect assumption that aquaculture food production is a location-bound resource rent industry that consistently generates extraordinary returns disproportionate to the risk involved.

The high tax level and the unfavourable design of the new tax are poised to withdraw a substantial portion of investment capital from the industry. Therefore, SalMar will continue its close and fact-based dialogue with authorities and decision-makers to promptly restoring a tax system and tax level that is appropriate for Norwegian aquaculture. SalMar is open to legal steps in due course.

Changes in the regulatory framework for aquaculture in Iceland

In December 2023, a bill was presented by the Icelandic government which could lead to changes in the regulatory framework for the country's aquaculture sector.

The aim of the proposed changes is to increase the value of Iceland's aquaculture sector, while do it in a sustainable way. The proposal has not yet been approved in law by Parliament.

Statement of Objections from the European Commission

25 January 2024, the European Commission sent a Statement of Objections to SalMar and other Norwegian salmon producers for potential breach of EU competition rules. For SalMar, the case commenced upon the Commission's inspection at Scottish Sea Farms Ltd. on 19 February 2019. SalMar has cooperated with the Commission throughout the entire case.

The Commission's preliminary assessment suggest a potential breach of EU competition law in the period 2011-2019, related to spot sales of fresh, whole salmon to EU from Norway. However, the Commission has not concluded in the case, and the issuance of the Statement of Objections does not determine the outcome of the investigation. SalMar strongly disagrees with the Commission's preliminary assessment and will provide a comprehensive response.

Traffic-light system

Norway has a "traffic-light system" which regulates aquaculture growth, while also ensuring environmental sustainability and predictability. The system divides the country into 13 production regions, where each region receives a green, yellow, or red designation indicating expansion permissions. Green regions allow growth in production, yellow regions can keep stable production, while red regions must halt production or reduce it. The assessment is done every second year.

On 6 March 2024, the new assessment of the regions was announced. Among the 13 different regions, six regions were designated green, five yellow, and two red.

SalMar holds production licenses in the green regions PO10-13 and in the yellow regions PO5-PO7. In line with the framework, SalMar purchased in April 2024 its relative share of allowed growth relating to existing licenses at fixed price of NOK 170,000 per ton, totaling 748 tonnes.

An auction for the remaining available volume is expected but the final date is yet not set.

Outlook

In 2024 it is expected limited global growth in supply for Atlantic salmon. According to figures from Kontali Analyse the global supply is expected to increase with 0.9 per cent from levels in 2023.

In the second quarter 2024, the global volume of salmon harvested is expected to be 0.7 per cent higher than the level in than the second quarter 2023, according to Kontali.

Compared with the same period last year, the harvested volume in the second quarter 2024 is expected to decrease with 0.7 per cent in Norway, 5.3 per cent in Chile and 8.6 per cent in North America. Harvest volume is expected to increase with 4.3 per cent in UK, 29 per cent in the Faroe Islands and 35.7 per cent in other regions.

The Fish Pool forward price as of 6 May 2024 indicates an average salmon price of NOK 120.5 per kg and NOK 110.9 per kg in May and June 2024, respectively. The forward price for the second half of 2024 is NOK 90.0 per kg.

Harvest guidance 2024 and beyond

The volume guidance remains unchanged at 237,000 tonnes in Norway, 7,000 tonnes from SalMar Aker Ocean, 15,000 tonnes in Iceland and 37,000 tonnes in Scotland (100% basis).

In the farming segments in Norway, the cost level in the second quarter 2024 is expected to be slightly lower than in the corresponding quarter last year, compared to the first quarter 2024. Compared to the second quarter 2023, SalMar expects the volume in Norway to be slightly lower level and higher in Iceland.

For the second quarter 2024, the contract rate is expected to be around 48 per cent in Norway. For the full year of 2024, it is expected to be around 30 per cent.

SalMar has identified substantial untapped organic growth potential within existing value chain, which will not require large investment. Despite challenges at the end of 2023 and in the beginning of 2024, the volume potential is unchanged.

The volume potential in Norway is estimated at 300,000 tonnes, SalMar Aker 13,000 tonnes, Iceland 26,000 tonnes and Scottish Sea Farms 45,000 tonnes (100% basis). Overall, this implies a total volume projection for the SalMar group of 362,000 tonnes, including relative share from Scottish Sea Farms.

Overall ambitions

SalMar has a positive view on the future of the aquaculture industry. The company expects the global supply growth of Atlantic salmon in 2024 to be limited.

SalMar is committed to grow sustainably and create value for society and its shareholders. Where, how soon and how much depends on regulatory framework conditions.

SalMar has strong strategic and operational focus with dedicated employees and a corporate culture set for growth. The company has untapped potential for further sustainable growth within existing licenses in all regions. Not for growth's sake, but because salmon is a sustainable marine protein that Norway and the rest of the world needs.

The accounting for live fish is regulated by IAS 41 Agriculture and biological assets are recognised at fair value in accordance with IFRS 13.

The company's stocks of live fish held at sea farms are, in accordance with IAS 41, recognised at fair value. Present value is calculated on the basis of estimated revenues less production costs remaining until the fish is harvestable at the individual site. A fish is harvestable when it has reached the estimated weight required for harvesting specified in the company's budgets and plans. The estimated value is discounted to present value on the reporting date.

Estimated future revenues are calculated on the basis of Fish Pool forward prices on the balance sheet date. A quarterly price average is calculated, since the fish are harvested over several periods. Forward prices are adjusted for export supplements, shipping, sales and harvesting costs. An adjustment is also made for expected variations in fish quality. In the absence of price quotations on Fish Pool, forward prices for 2025 have been calculated on the basis of price expectations obtained from industry analysts.

The monthly discount factor reflects the time value of money, the risk in biological production and a hypothetical licence fees and site rental cost. The discount factor is based on expectations on profitability in the industry which impact the hypothetical license fee and can vary in different areas.

Roe, fry, smolt and cleaner fish are recognised at historic cost. Historic cost is deemed to be the best estimate of fair value for these assets, due to little biological conversion.

The calculation is based on following estimated forward prices (NOK) :

The resource rent tax is in addition to the regular corporate tax on 22%, gives a total tax rate on aquaculture of 47%. The new tax applied retroactively from 1 January 2023.

The effect of the tax proposal is not recognized in the financial statement in Q1 2023, as the tax proposal was not adopted by the Norwegian parliament and the tax rates was not yet enacted by the end of March 2023.

Note 11 - Alternative performance measures (APM)

The SalMar Group prepares its financial statements in accordance with international accounting standards (IFRS). In addition, management has established alternative performance parameters to provide useful and relevant information to users of its financial statements. Alternative performance parameters have been established to provide greater understanding of the company's underlying performance, and do not replace the consolidated financial statements prepared in accordance with international accounting standards (IFRS). The performance parameters have been reviewed and approved by the Group's management and Board of Directors. Alternative performance parameters may be defined and used in other ways by other companies.

The APMs are deduced from the performance measures defined in IFRS. The figures are defined below and calculated in a consistent manner. They are presented in addition to other performance measures, in keeping with the Guidelines on Alternative Performance Measures issued by the European Securities and Markets Authority (ESMA).

Operational EBIT

Operational EBIT is an APM used by the Group. The relationship between Operational EBIT and operating profit/loss is presented in the table below. The difference between Operational EBIT and operating profit/loss relates to provisions for production tax and onerous contracts, and items which are classified in the financial statements on the line for fair value adjustments. These items are market value and fair value assessments linked to assumptions about the future. Operational EBIT shows the underlying operation and the results of transactions undertaken in the period.
