Lars Fruergaard Jørgensen, president and CEO: "We are pleased with the sales growth in the first half of 2024, which has enabled us to raise the outlook for the full year. The growth is driven by the increased demand for our GLP-1-based diabetes and obesity treatments, and we continue to reach more patients with our innovative treatments. Within R&D, we are very pleased with the first phase 3 trial results with Mim8 and its potential for people living with haemophilia A, and with the recent recommendation for a label extension for cardiovascular risk reduction for Wegovy® in the EU."

Free cash flow realised in 2024 was DKK 41.3 billion compared to DKK 45.5 billion in the first six months of 2023. The lower free cash flow reflects increasing capital expenditure as well as acquisitions of intangible assets. This is partially countered by net cash generated from operating activities. The impairment of the intangible asset ocedurenone of DKK 5.7 billion has no impact on free cash flow.

Income under the 340B Program has been partially recognised.

Capital expenditure for property, plant and equipment was DKK 18.9 billion compared with DKK 10.6 billion in 2023, primarily reflecting investments in additional capacity for active pharmaceutical ingredient (API) production and fill-finish capacity for both current and future injectable and oral products. The current expectations for 2024 are summarised in the table below:

Expectations are as reported, if not otherwise stated	Expectations 7 August 2024	Expectations 2 May 2024
Sales growth
et CER	22% to 28%	19% to 27%
is reported	Around 1 percentage point lower than at CER	In line with CER growth

ree cash flow (excluding impact from business development)	Between 59 and 69 bDKK	Between 57 and 67 bDKK

Sales growth is now expected to be 22% to 28% at CER. Given the current exchange rates versus the Danish krone, sales growth reported in DKK is now expected to be 1 percentage point lower than at CER. The updated sales outlook at CER reflects higher full-year expectations for both operating units.

The guidance reflects expectations for sales growth in both North America Operations and International Operations, mainly driven by volume growth of GLP-1-based treatments for Obesity and Diabetes care. Continued pricing pressure within Diabetes and Obesity care is included in the guidance.

Following higher-than-expected volume growth in recent years, including GLP-1-based products such as Ozempic® and Wegovy®, combined with the expectation of continued volume growth and capacity limitations at some manufacturing sites, the outlook also reflects expected continued periodic supply constraints and related drug shortage notifications across a number of products and geographies. Novo Nordisk is investing in internal and external capacity to increase supply both short and long term. In the US, demand for Wegovy® exceeds supply, and to safeguard continuity of care, the supply of the initiation dose strength remains capped. A gradual global roll-out of Wegovy® with capped volumes is included in the guidance.

Operating profit growth is now expected to be 20% to 28% at CER. Given the current exchange rates versus the Danish krone, growth reported in DKK is now expected to be 1 percentage point lower than at CER. The updated expectation for operating profit growth is mainly reflecting the impairment loss related to ocedurenone, countered by the increased sales outlook.

The expectation for operating profit growth primarily reflects the sales growth outlook and continued investments in future and current growth drivers within Research, Development and Commercial. Within R&D, investments are related to the continued expansion and progression of the early and late-stage pipeline. Commercial investments are mainly related to Obesity care market development activities as well as investments related to GLP-1 diabetes care.

Novo Nordisk now expects financial items (net) to amount to a loss of around DKK 0.5 billion, mainly reflecting losses associated with foreign exchange hedging contracts.

The effective tax rate for 2024 is still expected to be in the range of 19-21%.

Capital expenditure is still expected to be around DKK 45 billion in 2024, reflecting expansion of the global supply chain. The investments will create additional capacity across the supply chain, including manufacturing of active pharmaceutical ingredients (API), additional aseptic production and finished production processes as well as packaging capacity. In the coming years, the capital expenditure to sales ratio is still expected to be low double-digit.

Financial Information Depreciation, amortisation and impairment losses are now expected to be around DKK 17 billion, mainly related to the impairment of ocedurenone.

The free cash flow is now expected to be DKK 59-69 billion reflecting the sales growth, a favourable impact from rebates in the US, countered by investments in capital expenditure. The updated cash flow expectation mainly reflects the increased sales growth outlook.

Financial impacts related to and following the expected closing of the Catalent transaction have not been included in the financial guidance.

All of the above expectations are based on assumptions that the global or regional macroeconomic and political environment will not significantly change business conditions for Novo Nordisk during 2024, including energy and supply chain disruptions, the potential implications from major healthcare reforms and legislative changes as well as outcome of legal cases including litigations related to the 340B Drug Pricing Program in the US, and that the currency exchange rates, especially the US dollar, will remain at the current level versus the Danish krone. The guidance is also based on assumptions in relation to the estimation of gross-to-net developments in the US gross sales. Finally, the guidance does not include the financial implications of any new significant business development transactions and significant impairments of intangible assets during 2024.

Update on label extension applications for oral semaglutide in the EU

In July 2024, the European Medicines Agency's Committee for Medicinal Products for Human Use (CHMP) adopted a positive opinion, recommending a label extension for the existing marketing authorisation for once-daily oral semaglutide 25 mg and 50 mg in people with type 2 diabetes, based on the results from the PIONEER PLUS trial. Novo Nordisk expects a final approval by the European Commission (EC) within approximately two months. The global launch of oral semaglutide 25 mg and 50 mg is contingent on portfolio prioritisations and manufacturing capacity. In August, the EC granted a marketing authorisation of a formulation change application in the EU to introduce 1.5 mg, 4 mg and 9 mg daily doses of oral semaglutide (marketed under brand name Rybelsus®) equivalent to 3 mg, 7 mg and 14 mg doses, respectively.

FLOW data with semaglutide 1.0 mg submitted for regulatory approval in the EU

In May 2024, Novo Nordisk submitted a label extension application to the European Medicines Agency (EMA) for regulatory approval in the EU for Ozempic® to include results from the kidney outcomes trial FLOW. Semaglutide 1.0 mg demonstrated a 24% reduction in the risk of kidney disease-related events in people with type 2 diabetes and chronic kidney disease in the FLOW trial. In the trial, semaglutide 1.0 mg appeared to have a safe and well-tolerated profile in line with previous semaglutide 1.0 mg trials.

Phase 3a trial COMBINE 1 with IcoSema successfully completed

In June 2024, Novo Nordisk successfully completed the third and last pivotal phase 3a trial, COMBINE 1, with once-weekly IcoSema, a combination of basal insulin icodec and semaglutide. The objective of the 52-week trial was to assess the efficacy and safety of switching to once-weekly IcoSema compared to once-weekly basal insulin icodec alone in people with type 2 diabetes inadequately controlled on a daily basal insulin, with or without OADs. From a mean baseline  $HbA_{1c}$  of 8.22%, the primary endpoint was met with IcoSema demonstrating superior reduction in  $HbA_{1c}$  of -1.55 percentage points compared to -0.89 percentage point for insulin icodec (estimated treatment difference: -0.66 percentage point). Further, from a baseline body weight of 84.47 kg, IcoSema demonstrated a superior change in body weight of -3.70 kg vs +1.89 kg for insulin icodec (estimated treatment difference of -5.59 kg) . The rates of clinically significant or severe hypoglycaemia were statistically significantly lower with IcoSema at 0.14 events per patient year of exposure vs 0.63 events per patient year of exposure with once-weekly insulin icodec. In the trial, once-weekly IcoSema appeared to have a safe and well-tolerated profile. Novo Nordisk expects to file for first regulatory approval of IcoSema in the second half of 2024.

Successful completion of the OASIS 4 phase 3 trial with oral semaglutide 25 mg in people with obesity or overweight

In June 2024, Novo Nordisk successfully completed OASIS 4, a phase 3b trial in the global OASIS programme. OASIS 4 was a 64-week, efficacy and safety trial comparing once-daily oral semaglutide 25 mg for weight management to placebo in 307 adults with obesity or overweight with one or more comorbidities. From a baseline bodyweight of 105.9 kg, oral semaglutide 25 mg achieved 13.6% weight loss compared to a 2.2% reduction with placebo in adults with obesity or overweight (16.6% weight loss compared to a 2.7% reduction, respectively, if all people adhered to treatment). In the trial, oral semaglutide 25 mg appeared to have a safe and well-tolerated profile. The global launch of oral semaglutide 25 mg is contingent on portfolio prioritisations and manufacturing capacity.

LEGAL MATTERS

Litigations related to the 340B Drug Pricing Programme in the US

Since January 2021, Novo Nordisk has made a number of changes to its policy in the US, related to facilitating delivery of its discounted medicines to commercial pharmacies that contract with covered entities participating in the 340B Drug Pricing Program. On 30 January 2023, the US Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit issued a ruling holding that Novo Nordisk's drug distribution policy was consistent with the 340B statute. In May 2024, the US Court of Appeals for the DC Circuit issued a ruling that was consistent with the ruling by the Third Circuit Court of Appeals. However, a ruling from the US Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit remains pending and along with the DC Circuit ruling may be subject to further discretionary appellate review before the US Supreme Court. Depending on the outcome of any subsequent rulings and appeals in these matters, there may be a material impact on Novo Nordisk's financial position, net sales and cash flow.

APPENDIX 7: NON-IFRS FINANCIAL MEASURES (ADDITIONAL INFORMATION)

In this Company Announcement, Novo Nordisk discloses certain financial measures of the Group's financial performance, financial position and cash flows that reflect adjustments to the directly comparable measures calculated and presented in accordance with IFRS. These non-IFRS financial measures may not be defined and calculated by other companies in the same manner and may thus not be comparable with such measures. The non-IFRS financial measures presented in the Company Announcement are Net sales and operating profit at CER, EBITDA and Free cash flow.

Net sales and operating profit growth at CER

'Growth at CER' means that the effect of changes in exchange rates is excluded. It is defined as Net sales/Operating profit for the period measured at the average exchange rates for the same period prior year compared with Net sales/Operating profit for the same period prior year. Price adjustments within hyperinflation countries, as defined in IAS 29 'Financial reporting in hyperinflation economies', are excluded from the calculation to avoid growth at CER being artificially inflated.

Growth at CER is considered to be relevant information for investors in order to understand the underlying development in net sales and operating profit by adjusting for the impact of currency fluctuations.

EBITDA

Novo Nordisk has significantly increased its Business Development M&A activities and Capital expenditure for property, plant and equipment during recent years. Novo Nordisk defines EBITDA as 'Net profit' adjusted for 'income taxes', 'financial items', 'depreciation and amortisation' and 'impairment losses'. EBITDA is a measure that is widely used by investors and analysts as it helps analyse operating results from core business operations without including the effects of capital structure, tax rates and depreciation and amortisation and impairment losses. These factors can vary substantially between companies.

Free cash flow

Novo Nordisk defines free cash flow as 'net cash generated from operating activities', less 'net cash used in investing activities', less repayment on lease liabilities and excluding net change of marketable securities. Free cash flow is a measure of the amount of cash generated in the period which is available for the Board of Directors to allocate between Novo Nordisk's capital providers, through e.g. dividends, share repurchases and repayment of debt (excluding lease liability repayments) or for retaining in the business to fund future growth.

The following table shows a reconciliation of Free cash flow with Net cash generated from operating activities, the most directly comparable IFRS financial measure:
