ASM receives 2024 Excellent Performance Award from TSMC

ASM International N.V. (Euronext Amsterdam: ASM) has received a 2024 “Excellent Performance Award” from TSMC, recognizing global suppliers who delivered outstanding performance in the previous year.

The award was presented at TSMC’s 2024 Supply Chain Management Forum in Hsinchu, Taiwan, on December 2, 2024. This marks the fourth consecutive year that ASM has received this award. This year’s recognition highlights ASM’s role in the ongoing expansion of TSMC’s global footprint as well as the crucial contributions to its growing production capacity for advanced process technology nodes.

“On behalf of ASM and all our employees, I would like to express our gratitude to TSMC for their recognition through this award,” said Hichem M’Saad, CEO of ASM. “TSMC is a highly valued strategic partner for ASM as we collaborate to drive the next technological breakthroughs. We look forward to continuing our support for TSMC’s production ramps, while relentlessly focusing on advancing new cutting-edge innovations for semiconductor technologies like ALD and epitaxy.”

ASM is dedicated to paving the way for the technology of tomorrow. Across 15 key locations, ASM’s people operate as a unified global team, consistently demonstrating exceptional commitment to exceeding customers’ expectations and staying ahead of what’s next.
