PRESS RELEASE

Courbevoie, France – September 2, 2025

Bureau Veritas Ranks Top Performer in S&P Global CSA Score 2025

Bureau Veritas is honored and proud to announce that it has improved its ESG performance in the S&P Global Corporate Sustainability Assessment (CSA). Revealed in August 2025, the company's score reaches 84 out of 100 points, positioning it in first place among Professional Services sector companies – which encompasses the TIC sector.

This achievement highlights the significant progress made by Bureau Veritas across various ESG dimensions:

- Environment: Continued development of Environmental Management Policy
- Social: Ongoing strengthening of Customer Satisfaction
- Governance: Improvement of Transparency, Reporting, and Risk Management practices.

This distinction marks the seventh consecutive year Bureau Veritas has distinguished itself in the Dow Jones Sustainability Indices (DJSI). It reflects the constant commitment of the company's 84,000 employees to embody a reference model in sustainability.

ABOUT THE S&P GLOBAL CSA

The S&P Global Corporate Sustainability Assessment (CSA) is a benchmark annual evaluation of corporate sustainability practices. Covering over 12,000 companies across 62 industrial sectors, the CSA uses a rigorous multi-criteria analysis methodology, evaluating each organization through 110 questions across environmental, social, and governance dimensions. Its unique double materiality methodology allows measuring not only companies' impact on society and the environment but also how sustainability issues influence their performance and value creation. The ESG score, rated out of 100, offers investors and stakeholders a comparative and in-depth vision of companies' sustainable development strategies on a global scale.
