Hexatronic completes previously announced acquisition of REHAU Telecom

Hexatronic Group AB (publ) ("Hexatronic") has today, October 1, 2021, completed the previously announced acquisition of all telecom activities of REHAU Group ("REHAU Telecom") - one of the main players in the German microduct market.

The acquisition is highly strategic for Hexatronic Group. The German FTTH (Fibre to the Home) market is in an early phase of a large expansion. By combining the capabilities of REHAU Telecom's microduct business with Hexatronic's complete passive FTTH solution Hexatronic will become a major player in the growing FTTH market in Germany.

The acquisition was announced on July 14, 2021, and took place via an asset deal including the sales & marketing and product management activities foremost in Germany, as well as the microduct plant in Neulengbach, Austria, including the land and buildings of the production site. REHAU Telecom will be consolidated into the Hexatronic Group from October 1, 2021.

The acquisition has been fully financed with a loan from Danske Bank.
